EXPLANATIONS

THE IB RANKING SYSTEM EXPLAINED:

An Introducing Broker uses the Introducing Broker URL (link) created by QuickTrade.World to refer clients to QuickTrade.World. An Introducing Broker gets paid a referral fee when traders they referred to QuickTrade.World close their trades.

QuickTrade.World assigns the USD 3 Per Lot IB campaign to this new Introducing Broker, which is the lowest referral fee that is paid to Introducing Brokers who refer traders to QuickTrade.World. For an Introducing Broker to be promoted to a higher rank, the qualifying criteria for Total Lots Traded must be met in a calendar month.

For example, an Introducing Broker whose existing referred traders trade more than 150 Lots in the same calendar month will be promoted to the rank of an EMERALD Introducing Broker for the next calendar month.

QuickTrade.World will adjust the IB campaign for this Introducing Broker and pay a referral fee of USD 7 Per Lot on trades closed by his referred traders for the calendar month following the month in which the qualifying criteria (+ 150 Lots Traded) were attained.

This promotion is for the next calendar month ONLY. The Introducing Broker must meet the same qualifying criteria to stay at the achieved rank for future months.

If the total number of lots traded by the traders referred by the Introducing Broker increases, the Introducing Broker will be promoted to a higher rank and QuickTrade.World will adjust the IB campaign for this Introducing Broker and pay the corresponding referral fee for the calendar month following the month in which the qualifying criteria were attained.

For example, an Introducing Broker whose existing referred traders trade more than 450 Lots in the same calendar month will be promoted to the rank of a RUBY Introducing Broker. QuickTrade.World will adjust the IB campaign for this Introducing Broker and pay a referral fee of USD 9 Per Lot for trades closed by the traders referred by the Introducing Broker for the calendar month following the month in which the qualifying criteria (+ 450 Lots Traded) was attained.

This promotion is for the next calendar month ONLY. The Introducing Broker must meet the same qualifying criteria to stay at the achieved rank for future months.

All Introducing Brokers who don't meet the qualifying criteria in a calendar month to stay on a specific rank or meet the qualifying criteria to be promoted will be downgraded to the rank (for the next calendar month), which corresponds to the number of Lots traded (by the clients they referred) in that specific month.

For example, an Introducing Broker who achieved the rank of DIAMOND and who has less than 150 Lots Traded by their referred traders during the month in which they receive the referral fees paid to a DIAMOND Introducing Broker will be downgraded to the rank of a GOLD Introducing Broker for the next calendar month. This means their IB campaign will be adjusted from USD 10 Per Lot to USD 6 Per Lot for the next calendar month.

It is essential to understand that Introducing Brokers are promoted and demoted monthly according to the number of lots traded by the clients they refer.
